Doraville Sets Election Dec. 2; Names Planners

Doraville has called an election for December 2 to fill two seats on the city commission and has appointed three new members to its planning Commission.

City Commissioners called the election in a resolution at its last meeting which set up a board of registrars, and election board and an election appeals board. Mrs. Frank Stringer will serve as election manager.

Positions held presently by Commissioners John Miller and Fred Carson are to be filled in the election. Both have indicated they intend to seek reelection.

The qualifying fee is $25. Assisting Mrs. Stringer will be Mrs. Roxie Epps, 5912 N. Peachtree Road, and Mrs. Jackie Beyers, 3624 Raymond Drive.

The election appeals board will consist of Joe S. Bond, Mrs. Nancy Page and Robert Crane. The board of registrars is Mrs. Frances Schubert, Mrs. H. A. Provano and Mrs. William H. Rogers.

Appointed to vacancies on the Planning Board were Dr. Sanford H. Bederman, 3318 Pin Oak Circle; Herbert Farmer, 2556 Valley Stream Drive, and Mrs. William J. Kammerer, 3430 Pin Oak Circle.

They will serve along with these other members: Ted Skinner, chairman; Joe Bond, vice-chairman; Dr. William H. Neid, and Stan May, Jr.

City Commissioners also finalized a program to bring city employees under social security. It is subject to a referendum by the employees.

Commissioners also authorized Mayor Jesse Norman to employ a consultant to make recommendations concerning needed repairs to the city's swimming pool.

City Clerk Ralph Moore reported on business licenses and new construction in the city during the year ending October 15. Business licenses totaled 357 and produced $11,542 in revenue to the city. Permits issued for new construction totaled 100 and were for construction totaling $5,315,771.94.

Burglars Hit Two Businesses In Decatur

Decatur Police said burglars hit two establishments in the heart of the city one night last week.

Police Chief Luther Spinks said both incidents looked like they were perpetrated by "amateurs."

At Joe's Alignment at 250 Atlanta Avenue, the culprits broke out windows and crawled in. They took a drill, a grinder and a sander and $16.

At Callaway Motors at 231 W. Ponce de Leon, someone used a torch in an attempt to gain entry to a safe. It failed, but the burglars broke open a cigarette machine and took some change.

Chief Spinks Heads Fourth District Peace Officers

Decatur Police Chief Luther Spinks has been appointed vice-president of the Peace Officers Association of Georgia for the fourth congressional district.

The appointment was made recently by State President George C. Mutimer of Augusta.

Chief Spinks has headed the Decatur force for the past 19 years. He has been with the department for 31 of his 32 years as a law enforcement officer.

50 MEET

Decatur Merchants, Owners Launch Improvement Plan

Downtown Decatur merchants and property owners have launched a program to improve the E. Court Square area and an architect has been put to work on drawings for the plan.

Approximately 50 persons met last week to organize the program after a Decatur group visited Knoxville, Tenn. where several similar "do-it-yourself" improvement projects were carried out.

The organization will be called the Downtown Decatur Improvement Association. Merchants and owners on E. Court Square will receive a billing from the group for their pro-rata share of the first project in the next few days.

DAVID Dattlebaum, an E. Court Square merchant, said the first program will cost only $2,000. Of this $1,500 will go to the program on Sycamore St. and $500 to the E. Court Square Project.

The money will be spent for the preliminary planning by the architect. He will do a few of the buildings in detail to show how the village effect might look when completed.

The Association's executive committee is composed of Mr. Dattlebaum, E. B. Burnham, Joseph Maas, W. H. McManus, Sr., and John Wesley Weekes. Andre Steiner of Robert & Co. will do the architectural design work which will tie together the stores in the area while allowing each to make his own improvements to his individual taste.

Mr. Dattlebaum said the object is to tie the unique individual stores together into a uniform over-all project.

DECATUR MAYOR Jack Hamilton told the group great changes are taking place in Decatur and that this will continue.

He pointed to the development of the new First National Bank Building on E. Ponce de Leon and the proposed new DeKalb County office building. Those two, with the Decatur Federal Building will form a triangle into which downtown Decatur will continue to develop and thrive, he predicted.

"It is a great feeling to us (the city) to know that our own people are going to do this," he said, pointing out that across the Square Urban Renewal has taken seven years and the first buildings have have not yet been torn down.

He said it would be a "tragedy" if the merchants and owners did not go ahead and carry out the project on E. Court Square.

Assessments for the first project will cost the merchants and owners from $50 to $250, they were told.

Representatives of the Fulton National and the First National Bank promised the cooperation of the two institutions.

Among merchants and property owners participating are the First National Bank, David's, Adams, the Marlow Building, Tatum's, John Wesley Weekes (Weekes Building) W. H. McManus, Mrs. Ozmer, Mr. Speer, Belk-Gallant, Casual Corner, Ansel Paulk, Dyson's, Parris & Son, Mayo Clark, Rice's and Decatur Federal Savings & Loan Association.

School Board Special Election Features Only One Opposed Race

A special election will be held next Tuesday—the same day as the General Election—but it has absolutely no connection with the General Election except for the date.

It will decide two positions on the DeKalb County Board of Education. One, the district seven post, is held by F. Burton Hazelrigs and he is unopposed.

The other is district one position on the board. Three persons are running for that office. It pays $100 per month.

They are the incumbent, Weldon Shows, who is presently serving as chairman of the School Board, and challengers Mark Smith and Ben Hyde, Mr. Hyde is a former member of the board.

District One is a pie-shaped sliver which runs up the Fulton County line from Decatur and takes in such areas as Brookhaven, Chamblee and Doraville.

However, the election will be held county-wide, except for the Atlanta portion of DeKalb and the City of Decatur which have their own school districts.

District seven is another pie-shaped sliver which starts in Decatur and runs south along the Fulton County line taking in such areas as East Lake and the U.S. Honor Farm.

It will be the first such election in DeKalb since the procedures for electing DeKalb school board members were changed by the General Assembly.

The school board race will be listed on the Votomatic voting machines but is not connected with the General Election since candidates do not run in primaries and are not affiliated with political parties.

1965 Auto Tag Shown

NEW 1965 TAGS WILL BE HERE SOON—Pretty Kay Coker of the DeKalb County Tag Department holds a sample copy of the new 1965 auto license plate which will go on sale at the DeKalb Building on January 2. The tag is of blue lettering on a white background. L. W. Martin, director of the tag department, says he expects to sell approximately 190,000 of them. Total sales of 1964 tags through last week was 153,836, which is 8,430 more than the entire 1963 tag sales period. (NEWSphoto—Broome)

Big Crowd Expected At Vote Count Center Tuesday

A sardine probably would feel at home if he came to DeKalb County's Civil and Criminal Courtroom on the night of November 3.

The room is expected to be packed with people interested in the outcome of the presidential and local political races.

A large board in the courtroom will enable the people to keep up-to-date on the returns in the contested races, plus the rapid transit constitutional amendment. The other amendments will be kept on a smaller board in the room.

AS IN THE September 9 primary, the ballots will be tabulated electronically in the County's Datacenter in the DeKalb Building. Only authorized personnel will be permitted on the ground floor, site of the Datacenter. When the results from a precinct have been obtained from the IBM processing equipment, they will be brought up two flights of stairs to the election board in the courtroom. No returns will be announced at the precinct level.

Negro Policeman Resigns In Decatur

One of Decatur's new Negro policemen has resigned from the force, Police Chief Luther Spinks said.

He said the patrolman, R.A. Knight, had been replaced by another Negro, Nelson Nesbitt, who lives in Decatur.

We Recommend

This newspaper does not pretend to attempt to "tell" anyone how to vote next Tuesday, or in any election for that matter. Only the voter should decide that question.

But we would be negligent if we did not express our opinion as to which candidates we feel would best serve the people of DeKalb County in the positions for which they are running.

Newspapers are often in a position not only to evaluate the candidates by a close watch on them during a campaign, but also to keep up with the "behind-the-scenes" maneuvers and political ties and associations which often do not appear in print.

With this idea in mind, we recommend the election or reelection of the following in contested local races:

JAMES A. MACKAY for congressman from the new fourth district. Mr. Mackay's record of service to DeKalb and his ability and integrity as a legislator are overriding factors.

H. MCKINLEY CONWAY, JR. for reelection as DeKalb senator from the 41st district. Senator Conway has made a notable record during his first term in the Senate and has well represented his district and his country.

J. O. (JIM) BOWEN for election to the state house post vacated by Mr. Mackay. Mr. Bowen has a wide knowledge of the workings of government at the state capitol and has the experience of a term on the DeKalb County Commission behind him in addition to service on the State Game and Fish Commission.

W. HUGH McWHORTER for reelection to his 43rd district Senate seat. Mr. McWhorter has served continuously in the Georgia House and Senate longer than any other legislator. His experience is invaluable.

JIM ALMAND, SR. for reelection to his District One position on the DeKalb County Commission. Mr. Almand has been a part of an outstanding county administration. We feel his experience in his present position and as a member of the DeKalb County Board of Education give him a better knowledge of the problems and needs of our schools and general government.

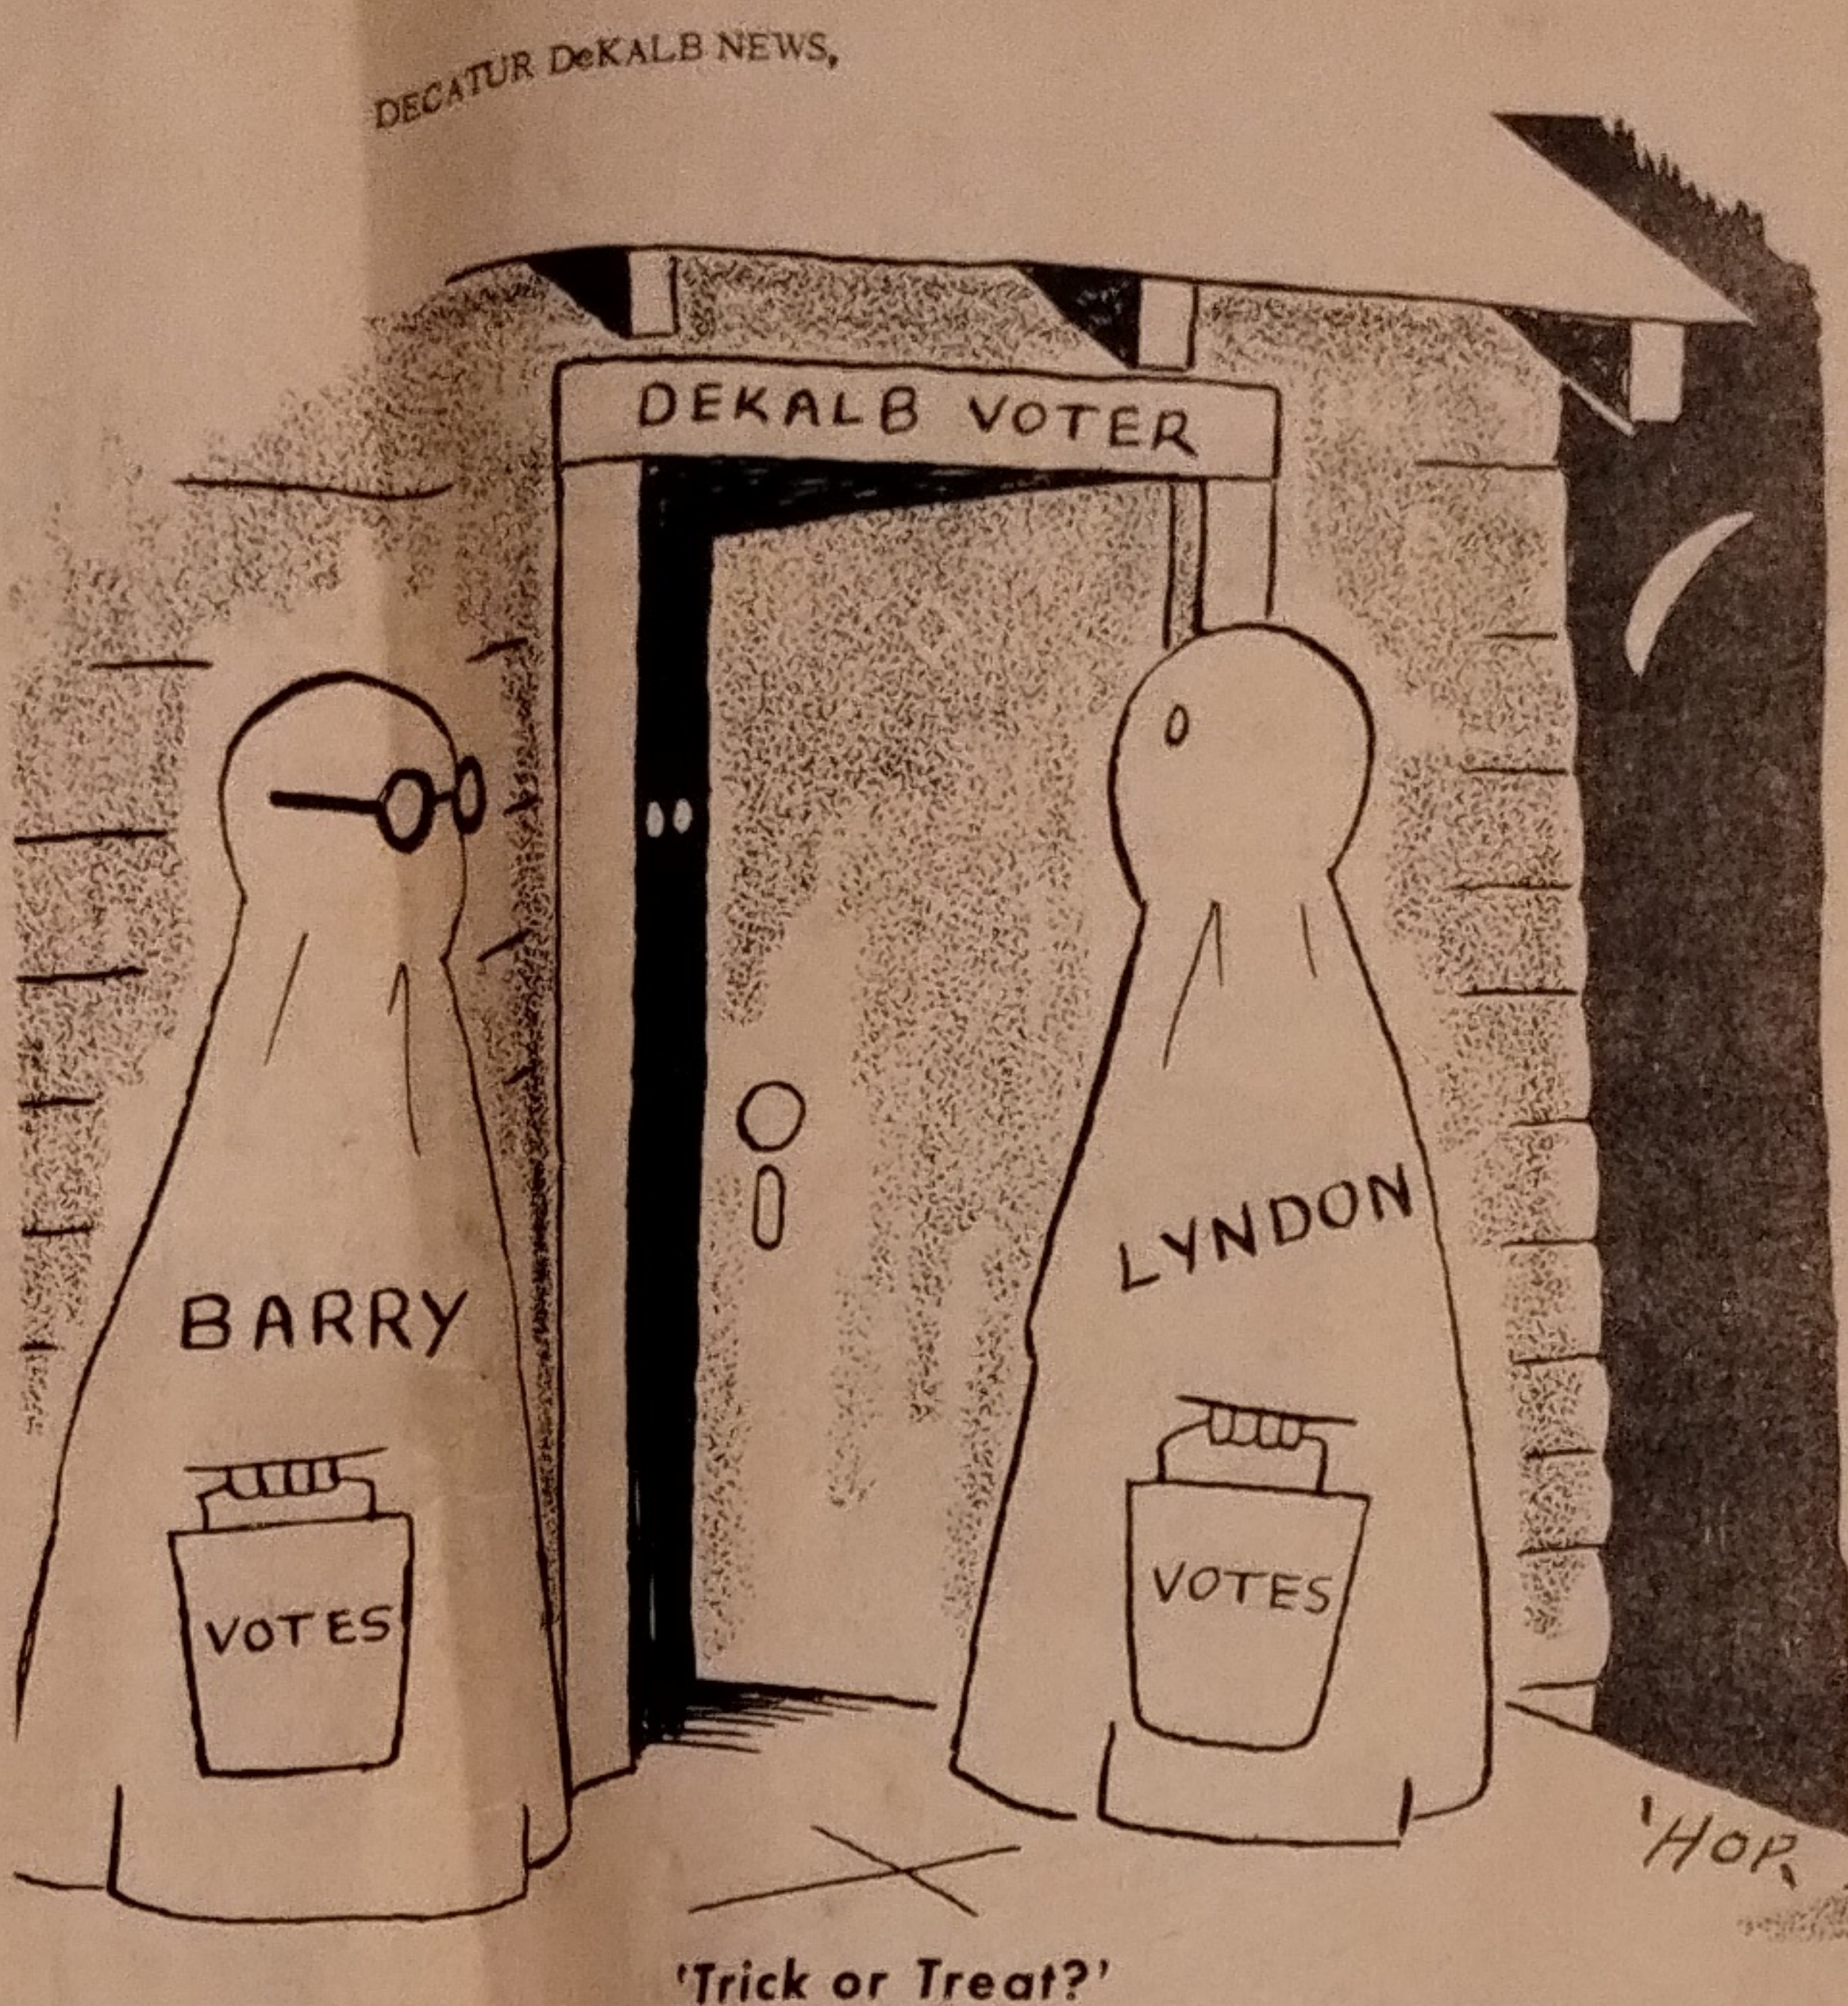

WELDON SHOWS for reelection to his District One post on the DeKalb County Board of Education. He presently is serving as chairman of the Board and during his term DeKalb County schools have gained a reputation for being the best in the Southeast.

Mr. Moore said the Belk-Gallant store will give free prizes to the first 1,000 ladies who visit it and door prizes will be given each hour during the three-day opening.

Drawings will be held each night at 9 p.m. A portable TV will be given away Thursday and Friday and a stereo console on Saturday.

It will begin at 8 a.m. on November 28. Degrees will be conferred at the Shrine Activities Building on Ponce de Leon Ave. and lunch and dinner will be served. On Sunday, November 29, a Religious Acclamation Day will be held at the Grace Methodist Church in Atlanta. Members of the York Rite sary facilities" (condemn and take (with remuneration) any private property it chooses without limit), and "to levy taxes to the extent necessary" (limitless).

The measure would enable General Assembly to make whatever laws it wishes, "General, special or local laws without regard to uniformity", without ever having to go back to the people for a vote.

Is this what you want written into the Constitution?

There are many alternatives; expressways could be used, the local bus system could be expanded, existing railroads could be used for commuter trains—without writing a new authority into the Constitution, and still maintain the free enterprise system.

HE OPPOSES RAPID TRANSIT AMENDMENT

Dear Editor:

The so-called "rapid transit" amendment #16 does not contain the words "rapid transit", but instead declares transportation of passengers for hire to be "an essential governmental function" (heretofore handled by private enterprise).

The measure would enable the creation of an authority which "shall be exempt from regulation by any agency or commission of the state" (this makes it more powerful than the state, according to the measure itself); the authority would have power "to acquire the neces-

ASKS HOW TO WRITE IN VOTE

Gentlemen:

There are a great number of registered voters as concerned as I with the "NO CHOICE" vote for the Commissioner of DeKalb County in the forthcoming election.

It would be a great service if the news media would, for those interested in a write-in vote, inform the public of the mechanics of this procedure. With the new Automatic Machines in use, the public should be specifically informed as to their complete operation.

In view of the recent presentation of the DeKalb County Grand Jury, it is pertinent at this time to give the voters a choice.

Sincerely,
P. A. Meyer
(Mrs. Wm. E. Meyer)

SOCIAL SECURITY IS NO HANDOUT.

Dear Mr. Broome:

I would like to sound off on a subject that should be of particular interest to older people, who like my wife and myself, both over 65 years of age, are dependent wholly, or to a great degree on our Social Security payments for our livelihood and a certain feeling of independence.

In a number of instances, the Republican candidate for President of the United States has expressed himself as either being opposed to Social Security in its entirety, or of being desirous of so altering it's provisions as to make the benefits practically non-existent.

Addressing this to our elderly citizens, I would like to suggest that you bear in mind that the payments that you receive from Social Security are neither welfare or gifts from the Federal Government, and that you have personally contributed to the cost of this program the same as if you were paying insurance premiums on an annuity, purchased to help support after you have reached the Golden Years of life and want to be free of becoming a burden on your children or other relatives.

Remember that Social Security was born during a Democratic administration and is only one of many ways that the Democratic Party has shown it's concern in making better Americans feel that they are more a part of a greater America.

I am a native of Metropolitan Atlanta and am the fourth generation of my family to be residents of this great City and State, and they have all been Democrats and proudly so.

Democratically yours,
H. E. Robbins

HE WONDERES WHO WILL WIN?

To the Editor:

Many people tell us that it doesn't matter whether Georgia goes for Johnson and the Democratic Party this year, since Johnson will win in the nation anyway. They say we need a two-party system in Georgia.

But, ask yourself the question: Who will really win in Georgia if Goldwater wins here? -- Real Republicans, or rejected Democrats Marvin Griffin, Roy Harris, and Lester Maddox?

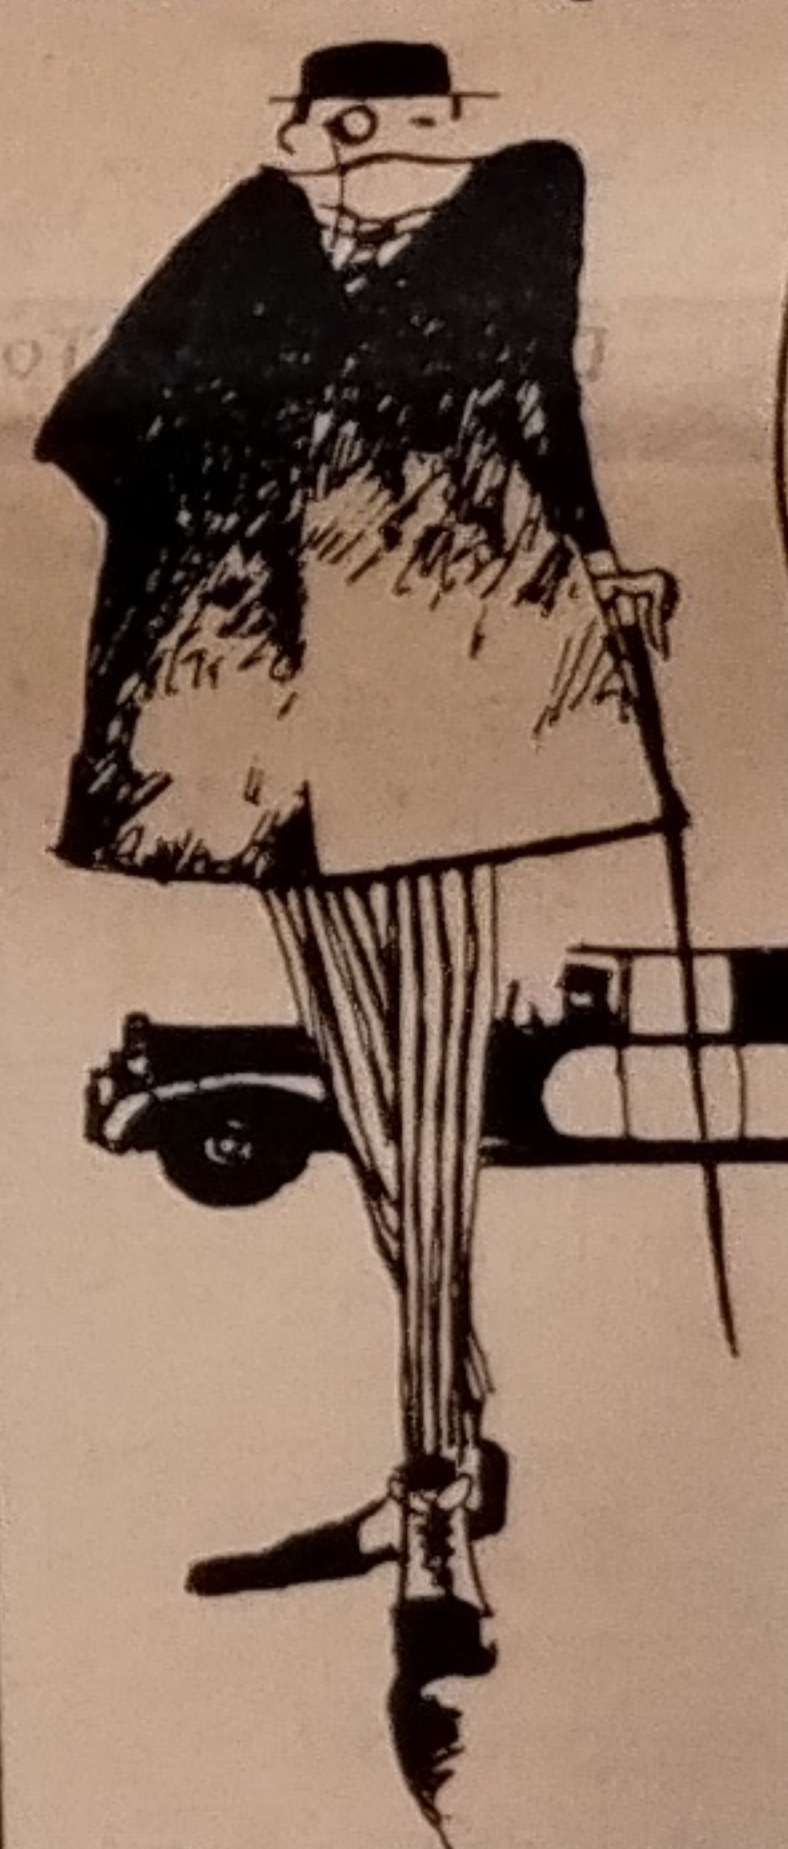

You know the answer. It won't be the real Republicans, many of whom are unable to support Goldwater. It will be Marvin Griffin and associates, and they will know just how to use this return to power.

We need a two-party system but not one with a Republican Party composed of devide and rejected Democrats who would lead us back down the path of corruption and racial strife.

This is the most crucial national election Georgia has ever had. If you value the progressive government Georgia has had the past few years, don't jeopardize it by giving encouragement to the very elements that were overwhelmingly defeated two years ago.

Sincerely yours,
James A. Jordan, Jr.

NOW IS THE TIME to learn about voting according to these Winona Park School students, left to right, Claudia Blair, Don Thrasher, Heydon Hall and Ben Walker. The students have been studying voting procedures and have held several mock elections to learn just how real elections are handled.

which will be discussed by the members of the club. A prize will be awarded for the most outstanding arrangement.

Winona Students Debate Political Issues And Vote

Students in Mrs. Lane A. Scott's fifth grade at Winona Park School are not waiting until they are eighteen years old to learn about voting. They've been learning first hand not only the actual procedures of casting a vote, but also studying the way an informed voter goes about making up his mind on which candidate to support.

As the current presidential campaign got under way, the students began to compile booklets with press clippings, and each gave an oral report on the candidate he favored, presenting valid reasons for his choice.

An exciting part of the past few weeks was a debate between supporters of the Democratic party and the Republican party with Barbara Roux, captain and Earl Vaughn and Doug Thrasher representing the Democrats, and Ruth Dinkins, captain, and Bonnie Breen and Robbie Edwards taking the part of the Republicans. The result, according to a school report, was that "the Johnson team won because they seemed to be better informed on their nominee."

Another thing of great interest to the students is an actual voting booth constructed by two classmates, Heydon Hall and Ben Walker, and during a mock election, the children had the fun of really casting a ballot for their favorite candidate behind curtains, just like the real thing.

And in a final note that many adults could well imitate this year, the children report, "Some of our classmates are for Goldwater and some are for Johnson, but we are all still friends."

- YOUR hypocrisy in supporting the civil rights bill of 1964 up until its passage was certain and after you became a candidate for President.
- COME NOW, SENATOR, let's tell the whole truth to the people of Georgia as you have told the truth to the people of Washington and other northern cities when you said, "I think that the Attorney General should have the power to use a very tightly-drawn law AIMED LIKE A RIFLE at the precise problem in a school district . . . yes, I would use it (the law), if elected."
- AND, "I am unalterably opposed to discrimination or segregation according to race, creed, or color or on any other basis, not only my words, but more importantly, my actions throughout the years have continually demonstrated my feeling in this regard . . . I realize fully the federal government has a responsibility in the field of civil rights. I supported the civil rights bills which were enacted in 1957 and 1960."
- And finally, Senator, you said last month: "I would vigorously enforce the civil rights bill of 1964 . . . for it is only just and right."

Vote Count Speed-Up Is Seen

One problem causing a delay in DeKalb's vote tabulation on September 9 was the accounting procedure at the precinct level required under Georgia's new Election Code.

Although the procedure hasn't changed, election officials hope the primary and runoff elections last month provided the poll workers sufficient experience to do this task quicker.

If things go as expected, the first precinct should arrive at the Datacenter in the DeKalb Building approximately one hour after that precinct's last voter has punched his Votomatic card. The last precinct could be counted around midnight.

But the timetable may be tossed out the window. The big question mark is write-in votes. The Election Code says the write-in votes must be counted at precinct level. In tabulating the write-ins, the poll workers must be sure the voter has not written-in a candidate for an office while also marking his punchcard ballot for a regular party nominee for that particular office.

FOR EXAMPLE, if a voter wrote in John Doe for Fourth District Congressman, he could not legally punch his regular ballot for either Democrat James Mackay or Republican Roscoe Pickett. If he did, the poll officials must declare his vote void for that particular office.

Election officials don't anticipate many write-ins. But they are frank to admit a substantial number of them would slow down the returns, because it would delay the precinct managers in bringing their ballots to the Datacenter.

SPEAK NOW OR FOREVER AFTER HOLD SILENT

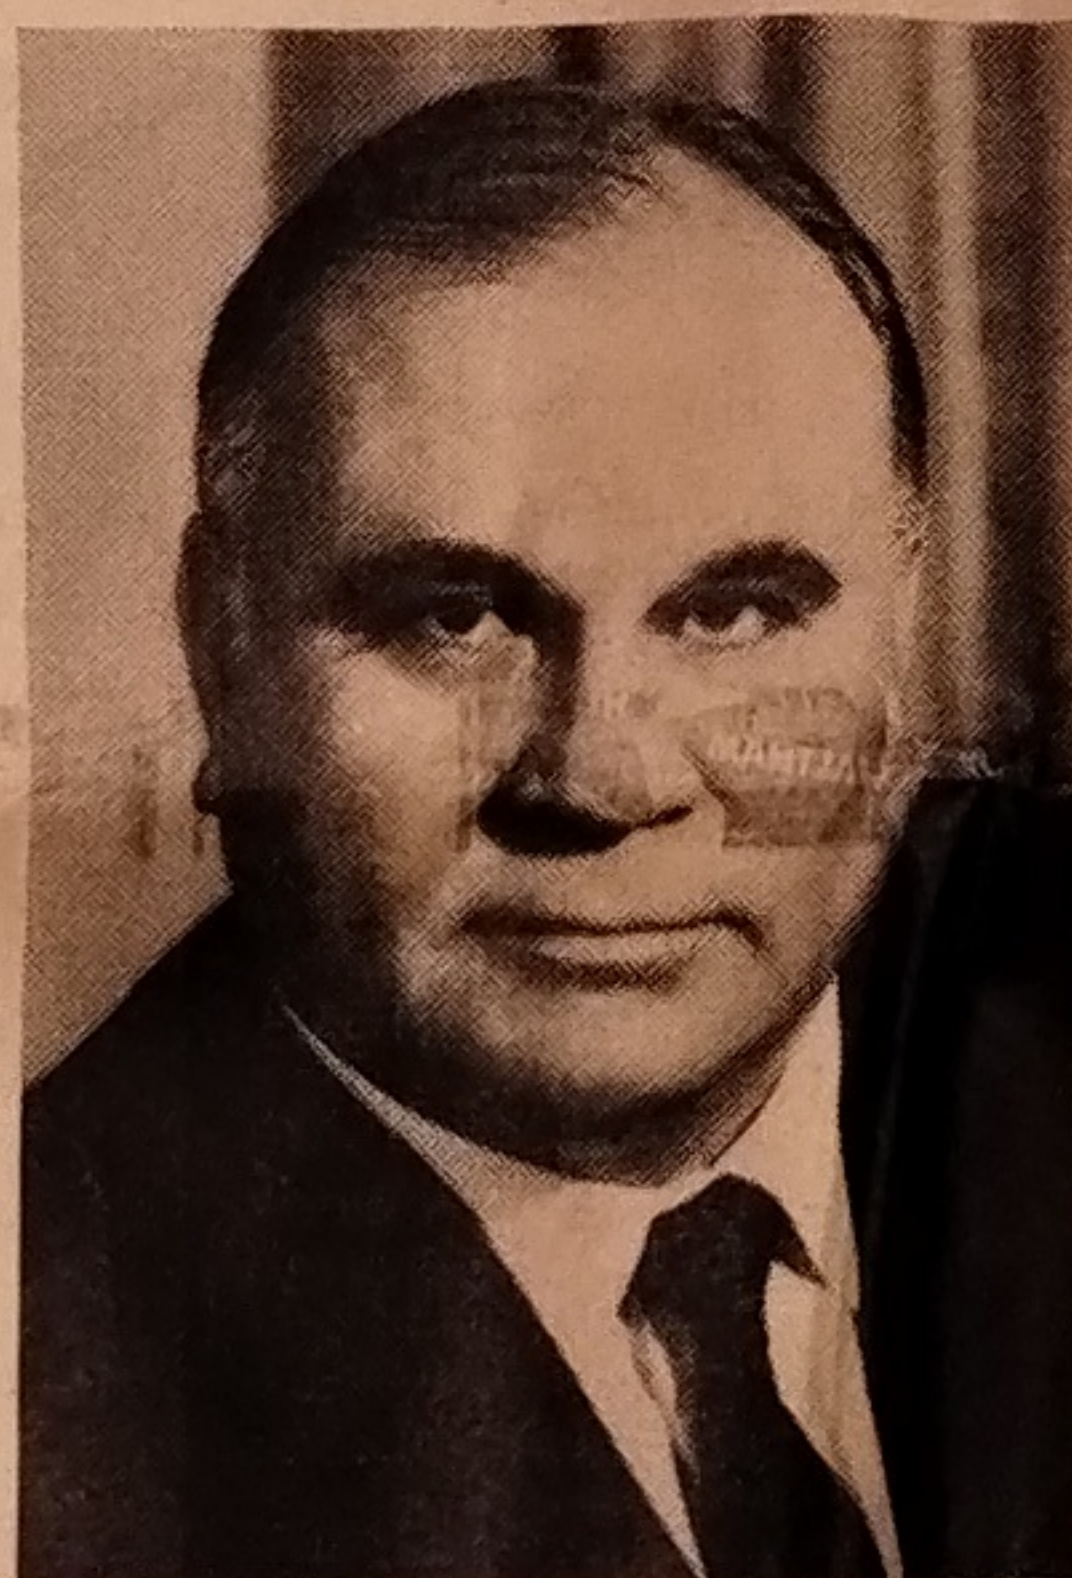

The time is now to dare to vote our conscience or forever after hold silent under the yoke of a socialized welfare state.

The people of the South can stop the stampede toward socialism. The destiny of our country is in our hands.

For the first time in the history of our nation the people of the South have the opportunity to exercise the dominant voice in a national election.

Our new congressman from the fourth district can become another face in the socialistic administration crowd... or, he can be among those constructive statesmen who effectively demonstrate that the South can never again be taken for granted.

The voice of the fourth district deserves to be and can be heard in the nation's highest council. When that voice is the voice of Roscoe Pickett it will be the voice of the people in the fourth district and it will be heard.

Roscoe Pickett

WE MAY NOT HAVE THIS CHOICE AGAIN

The many issues simply boil down to the fact that we have a choice of two philosophies of government. The conservative philosophy, which Roscoe Pickett represents, emphasizes the constitutional rights of the individual, encourages initiative and free enterprise. This philosophy is that the government should follow the dictates of the people. The people desire and consent to be governed. In our republic the people do not elect to be ruled.

The liberal philosophy, now in power, is just the opposite. This philosophy takes the initiative away from the individual and gives the government the regulation and control of individual lives and interests. Our greatest concern today is the dangerous centralization of power in the federal government. The local loudspeakers of this liberal philosophy are such as Ralph McGill, Ivan Allen, and James Mackay.

LIBERAL MACKAY BRANDS GEORGIANS "TOO IGNORANT TO CARE"

My opponent, James Mackay, thinks the people of Georgia are not capable of governing themselves. He says so in his book called GEORGIA POLITICS written for the uses of THE ROSENWALD FUND, a large, liberal agitator group. Here are his own words quoted directly from his confidential analysis of Georgia's political scene:

"THE PEOPLE ARE TOO IGNORANT TO CARE. OUR POLITICS IS WHAT IT IS BECAUSE OUR PEOPLE ARE WHAT THEY ARE—AND THEY ARE EITHER

IMPOTENT, INDIFFERENT, OR DESTRUCTIVE, BECAUSE OF THEIR INDIVIDUAL ECONOMIC CIRCUMSTANCES, THEIR ALLEGIANCE TO CUSTOM, THEIR SPIRITUAL IMPOVERISHMENT AND THEIR IGNORANCE OF THE SOCIETY IN WHICH THEY LIVE."

"...there are forty counties in the State that could be bought up until the day of election and there are forty more—you might call them venal—who won't sell for cash but can be had."

SPEAK NOW OR FOREVER AFTER HOLD SILENT

November 3 is the day of decision. I respect the integrity of every single voter to vote his conscience. I do not believe your vote is for sale. I do not believe you are too ignorant or too spiritually impoverished to care. I believe the future of our country is in the hands of our people and, for the first time, the people of the South can determine the destiny of our country. If you believe, with me, that the least government from Washington is the best government, vote for me. If you believe the federal spending spree that buys the people's votes is a national disgrace, vote for me. If you believe the legislative take-over of the Supreme Court is not only wrong but dangerous, vote for me. If you believe that appeasement and weakness mean war, and a positive foreign policy backed by military strength means peace, vote for me. If you believe in the freedom to pray to your God in your own way, vote for me.

If you believe in the return of our basic constitutional rights and freedoms vote for me and together we will make the first voice from the new Fourth District heard in Washington.

Martin Sets Victory Dinner November 14

A "Victory Dinner" will be held at 7 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 14, at Pritchett's Restaurant, 2788 E. Ponce De Leon Ave., Decatur, by J. Lamar Martin who has been certified by the DeKalb Democratic Executive Committee as the Democratic nominee for Sheriff of DeKalb County.

He has no Republican opposition in the general election of Nov. 3.

The dinner, Mr. Martin said, will be held after the general election and will give citizens a chance to get acquainted with all their newly-elected officers including legislators, judges, commissioners and others, who will be invited guests. There will be food, entertainment and music.

Mr. Martin said he is sponsoring the dinner, to which tickets will be sold, to help defray the legal expense of his court fight with Sheriff Broome, whose attorneys have asked the Court of Appeals to reverse Superior Court Judge Virlyn B. Moore and find Mr. Broome the legal nominee or order a new election.

"I won the Democratic nomination for Sheriff in an honest and open campaign," Mr. Martin said, "and the Democratic Committee's certification of me was upheld by Judge Moore. Now the present sheriff has unjustly involved me in a long and costly court fight. I am sure my friends and supporters will be glad to aid by attending the dinner, and meeting our newly-elected officials. Reservations may be made by calling 377-6436 (Day) or DR 3-3820 (Night).

HERE'S HOW

It's Easy To Vote DeKalb Split Ticket

So you want to vote a split ticket. It's easy to do in DeKalb County, but be careful.

One thing you must NOT do, and that is punch the straight party ticket hole. Otherwise, you will spoil your entire general election ballot, except for the constitutional amendments.

If you want to split your ticket, you must vote on each race individually. It's as simple as that.

Of course, the split ticket normally occurs when a person wishes to vote for a presidential candidate from one party and one or more local candidates from the other party. A few voters, however, split their vote on the presidential electors.

AFTER LYNDON Johnson and Barry Goldwater are listed on the Votomatic, you will find the names of the presidential electors for each party. If you vote a straight party ticket or if you vote for either Mr. Johnson or Mr. Goldwater, there is no reason to vote for the electors.

However, if you want to split your ticket and vote for some Democratic presidential electors and some Republican presidential electors, do not vote for either presidential candidate. If you split your ticket on the electors and also vote for Mr. Johnson or Mr. Goldwater, you cancel out your vote for president and the electors.

Band Festival Set Thursday

Bands will play and drill teams will march at the DeKalb Fall Marching Band Festival Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in Avondale Stadium.

Twelve DeKalb high schools bands will play and march on this gala occasion.

The largest aggregation will represent Avondale High School when ninety-nine band members and sixty-eight drill team members perform "Sound Spectacular" under the direction of George Disney, Stone Mountain High School has thirty-seven in its band and sixteen on the drill team, for a total of fifty-three, the smallest aggregation, who under the direction of Mr. William H. Calhoun will present "South."

The climax of the evening's program will be the presentation of the mass bands under the direction of Dr. Brownlee Waschek, DeKalb College, in the spectacular number, "Might and Majesty."

Bandsmen from the twelve high schools will number 796, and the drill teams will number 513, for a total of 1,309 performers in the band festival. Funds derived from this musical event will go into a band account to be used to replace band uniforms on a rotation schedule at existing high schools, to purchase band uniforms for new high schools, and to pay the deficit in the band uniform account, since no tax money is used to defray the cost of band uniforms. Admission will be $1.50 for adults and 75¢ for students.

Mrs. Georgia To Visit DeKalb

Mrs. Georgia 1964, Mrs. James M. Whitehurst, will be hostess Sunday, November 1, for the grand opening of Dogwood Manor, DeKalb's newest home development.

Dogwood Manor, located in Southeast DeKalb County, will have 10 modern model homes, situated on completely wooded and beautifully landscaped lots, ready for visitors to inspect on November 1.

Mrs. Georgia will be at Dogwood Manor from 2 p.m. until 6 p.m. to welcome visitors and prospective home buyers. While at Dogwood Manor, she will also autograph copies of the Mrs. Georgia Recipe Book and answer questions on the 1965 Mrs. Georgia program.

To reach Dogwood Manor, located on Clifton Springs Road, visitors should take the east-expressway to the Gresham exit and follow the Dogwood Manor signs.

ON VOTOMATIC

Straight Party Ticket Takes Only One Punch

With a single punch of the Votomatic stylus, a DeKalb County citizen can vote for either 108 Democratic candidates or 19 Republican candidates. The first choice on the ballot will be the straight party ticket. And if you want to vote a straight party ticket, punch the proper hole in your ballot.

Two additional points should be remembered:

-- If you vote a straight Democratic Party ticket and then vote for a Republican candidate, you have overvoted that office and that particular office then will be void on your ballot.

-- If you vote a straight Republican Party Ticket, you can vote for unopposed Democrats and your vote will be counted. But if you vote for an opposed Democratic candidate after voting a straight Republican Party ticket, your vote for that particular office will be void on your ballot.

Since the Constitutional amendments are non-partisan, they are not affected in any manner by your voting in the Democrat-Republican races. Each amendment must be voted on separately.

Also, voters in DeKalb outside Decatur and Atlanta will be electing two members to the County Board of Education. This is a non-partisan election and must be voted on separately.

BRANCH PREDICTS

Democrats See Victory In DeKalb Tuesday

Eugene T. Branch, chairman of the Democratic Party of DeKalb County, says he believes "DeKalb will vote Democratic on November 3 "because the voters of this County will reject radical changes in a foreign policy which has its roots deep in both Democratic and Republican Administrations and domestic policies which have contributed to our unprecedented prosperity. "The choice is one between extremism and moderation," he said.

Chairman Branch said that he feels "the Goldwater forces had a lead following the Republican convention but it disappeared as people came to look more carefully at the candidates and all the issues."

"Most of us have a short memory but one which at least extends back to November 22, 1963. We remember the relief which we felt in having a man like Lyndon Johnson to take over in the crisis resulting from the senseless murder of President Kennedy. We remember also that he took up the reins of national leadership with firmness, intelligence, and dedication without uncertainty or error."

"President Johnson has conducted the office in such a way as to win an overwhelming approval from all sections of our nation. These are facts which no wild and irresponsible charges can change. The people of DeKalb will remember these facts on November 3."

Mr. Branch said that in his opinion the lead of the Goldwater people early in the campaign was due to Senator Goldwater's vote on the civil rights bill,

"THE VOTERS came to realize, however, that Senator Goldwater never voted against a civil rights bill until after he announced his intention to seek the Presidency at a time when he needed the votes of Southern states if he were to have any chance. The voters also became aware of the fact that while the Goldwater people, through Mr. Roscoe Pickett, were working the southern side of the civil rights street in this area they were working the northern side of that street among the Negro voters in Washington, D. C., through Mr. Pickett's law partner, Mr. Carl Shipley.

"Senator Goldwater has been a very unexceptional senator and can point to no accomplishment which would merit for him serious consideration for the office of President of the United States and leader of the free world. No one can say with any degree of certainty what his position is on the important issues. We know what he has said from time to time—but this is confusing, rather than enlightening."

CHAIRMAN Branch said that all the Democratic nominees are deserving of the support of DeKalb voters.

Chairman Branch said "the candidates seeking office under the Republican banner have been able to point up no accomplishments of their own. They hoped to ride into office on the coattails of Barry Goldwater rather than work for and earn the support of the people of DeKalb."

Chairman Branch also expressed the belief that Georgia would vote Democratic.

WHY Jim Almand is BEST MAN for DeKalb County Commissioner:

JIM ALMAND received 24,487 votes in Primary — his opponent only 2,600!

ALMAND served fruitfully 1957-1960 as member of DeKalb County Board of Education.

ALMAND has served well past 4 years as DeKalb Dist. 1 Commissioner.

ALMAND has lived in and loved DeKalb County for 37 years.

ALMAND for 33 years was respected GMC employee.

ALMAND stays on job and gets things done to keep DeKalb "on the grow".

SAYS HE MAY FILE SUIT

Conway Seeks Grand Jury Investigation Of Himself

DeKalb Senator H. McKinley Conway, Jr. has asked the DeKalb County Grand Jury to investigate him and said he may file suit against his opponent seeking damages for employees of Conway Research, Inc. because of statements being made about the firm by his Republican opponent.

In a letter to the foreman of the DeKalb County Grand Jury, J.W. Battle, Senator Conway said:

"During the present political campaign my opponent has made numerous charges, attempting to smear my reputation. While I do not approve of this type of campaign strategy, I realize that it is frequently encountered and I have long since learned to ignore personal attacks. Having carried my district in five consecutive races, it is apparent that my constituents also are unimpressed by such tactics.

"Recently, however, charges have been made which are directed not only at me personally but at my company and its reputation. Thus, my opponent is involving company employees and staff members who are not engaged in political activity. These people are being injured although most have nothing whatever to do with my own political service. Because of the involvement of these people, therefore, I cannot ignore charges made against our company.

"Hence, I am today asking our company attorney to study the possibility of filing suit for damages on behalf of employees and staff members. This case will be held until after November 3 so that it can be carried forward free of any political pressures.

"Also, I am hereby asking that the DeKalb County Grand Jury make an immediate investigation of conflict of interest charges regarding me and the company. All company records will be placed at your disposal, and we will cooperate fully in any inquiry that you deem appropriate.

"Finally, I wish to state that it is particularly disgusting to me to have anyone suggest political chicanery on the part of members of my staff who have, in my opinion, brought important recognition to DeKalb County. I am certain that any inquiry will confirm that our community has every reason to be proud of the work done by them."

Groundbreaking Set For Midway Center

Groundbreaking ceremonies have been set Monday, November 2, for the Midway Community Center, to be built in Midway Park near Columbia Drive and Memorial Drive. Time is 11 a.m. The center is to be built with bond funds. The public is invited.

VOTE MANNING NOV. 3rd

First
PUNCH MANNING ON VOTOMATIC

Then
VOTE FOR YOUR CHOICE OF OTHER CANDIDATES

Votomatic Is Simple To Use

Marking your ballot with the Votomatic is as simple as one, two, three, according to many DeKalb County voters.

1. Insert the ballot card all the way into the Votomatic.
2. Be sure the two slots in the stub of the ballot card fit over the two red pins.
3. Turn to page one to begin voting.

4. To record the vote, insert the metal stylus into the hole to the right of the arrow for the candidate of your choice. Be sure to hold the stylus point straight down and not at an angle. Push the stylus all the way down.

5. Each voter will be given a write-in envelope. You should put your ballot card into the pocket of the envelope, with the numbered stub sticking out.

6. Step out of the booth; proceed to the ballot box; tear the stub from the ballot card while standing in front of the ballot box; place the stub in the box labeled "Stubs" and the actual ballot and envelope in the box labeled "Ballots".

Of course, if you need any assistance or additional instructions, ask a poll official.

ROUNDUP REPORT

Mackay-Pickett Race Gets Bitter During Closing Campaign Weeks

The race for Congress between Jim Mackay and Roscoe Pickett got more bitter and more personal during the past week as both candidates swapped punches on television and at rallies around the county.

Both candidates said they would prefer to stick to the issues and not engage in "mud slinging" but the two exchanged a volley of legal documents anyway.

On a WAGA TV panel moderated by Dale Clark, Mr. Pickett produced a copy of what he said was a tiff against Mr. Mackay for 1959 state income taxes. It showed $78.28 due to taxes.

Mr. Mackay said he had not seen it and that his taxes were handled by an accountant. He looked at it and noted that it had "long since" been paid and he did not owe any state income taxes.

Mr. Pickett continued to pursue the tax matter until Mr. Mackay whipped out of his coat pocket a thick document which he said he hesitated to bring into the campaign, but added that it was "one of the worst cases" against a lawyer he had ever seen.

THE SUIT involved Mr. Pickett's dealings with some partners in a land deal involving property at the intersection of the Northeast Expressway and N. Druid Hills road.

Mr. Mackay told Mr. Pickett that if he wanted to take the rest of the campaign "defending this suit" then he (Mackay) was ready to proceed in that direction. But he added that if he wanted to get back to the issues in the campaign, he (Mackay) would prefer it that way.

The two got back on the issues, answering questions from Linton Broome of the Decatur-DeKalb News and Ben Chester of the Atlanta Times on civil rights, school prayer proposals and other matters.

The two got into an argument even before the program began and at one point Pickett responded to a Mackay statement with "now Jim you know that's a lie." The argument developed when Mackay said he noted Ku Klux Klan members from Clayton County in attendance at a rally in Rockdale and that they shouted and stomped their feet cheering for Pickett.

AS IT turned out later the original papers concerning the law suit against Mr. Pickett had been taken from the files in Fulton Superior Court and never returned.

A court spokesman said Mr. Pickett's lawyer got them, Mr. Pickett's attorney said he gave them to Mr. Pickett, Mr. Pickett said he had not been asked to return them but would do so if he were asked and if he could find them in his files.

About the only real new development in the campaign concerning national issues was the apparent tendency by Rep. Mackay to hit harder at Senator Goldwater and at Pickett's almost complete support of the Senator's views.

"Barry Goldwater," said Mr. Mackay, "voted five times for Adam Clayton Powell (Negro congressman from Harlem)

while that would have taken federal funds from the South...then these campaign talks that Roscoe and Barry would repeal the civil rights bill...if that isn't double-talk, I don't know what it is."

HE ALSO said of Pickett: "All this baloney about returning to constitutional government, when we were disfranchised in the General Assembly 44 to 37, Pickett was supporting the county-unit system."

Mr. Pickett continued to charge Mackay with refusing to take a stand on the civil rights bill and being in the camp with liberals who will lead the country down the path to socialism.

Mayors Urge Us To Vote

The Mayors of DeKalb's various municipalities have signed a proclamation declaring the week of October 28 through November 3 as "Get Out the Vote Week".

In doing so they joined Governor Carl Sanders who at the request of the Georgia Municipal Association is encouraging Georgians to improve their record of voter participation.

VOTE FOR JIM MACKAY FOR CONGRESSMAN FROM THE NEW 4th DISTRICT DEKALB, PART OF FULTON, AND ROCKDALE COUNTIES

Peachcrest School Receives Outstanding Safety Award

The Peachcrest School, a member of the DeKalb County School System, has received a Certificate of Exceptional Merit and has been placed on the National School Safety Honor Roll of the National Safety Council, Arthur E. Justice, Principal announced today.

This is the first time that the school has won the honor and is the only DeKalb County School included in the Honor Roll which contains 5,647 school listings. Local firemen assisted in this exercise at least twice during the year.

Safety committees were established to provide coordination between the school safety education program and the community safety program. "We are encouraged by this recognition of our efforts to build a fine safety education program," Mr. Justice said. "We will continue to improve that program to teach our young people to protect themselves and their fellow students so long as accidents remain the chief cause of death among school-age children."

The Honor Roll was initiated in 1944. To gain a place on it, a school must present a detailed report of its safety program to a committee composed of the school, the president of the local Parent-Teacher Association, a student, a local civic leader, and the president of the local safety council. Upon the recommendation of this committee, the reports may be forwarded to the National Safety Council for listing on the Honor Roll.

The Council does not outline a specific program for a school to follow in its first year of participation. But it must have a well-rounded program which serves local community needs, included among the activities of the Peachcrest School were:

A student safety organization conducted safety activities throughout the year.

One person was designated to channel safety information from the school system's safety education supervisor or administrative office to the teaching staff.

An average of one fire drill a month was held at unannounced times under conditions simulating actual fire conditions.

Did you know permanent waving is only just over a half-century old? The first permanent waving machine was shown in London in 1906. What a monster it would seem today! It had an instrument panel and a mass of electrical cords so complicated, most women didn't dare try it. They say those first torture waves cost as much as $500! $50 waves existed for a long time, even as more machines were available. Imagine enduring a full day of heavy headed heat and paying $50!

Cold Waves—A War Baby

Right up till World War II, everybody believed it took heat to curl hair! Then along came the new miracle chemical processes, and they've been improving ever since. Every part of the permanent wave you receive today has gone through a fascinating evolution. Even the curling-rods — once ungainly wooden rollers — have become feather-light and porous... more comfortable on your head, more help to your permanent wave. And our modern "cold waves" get better every year.

Telephone Talk

H. L. GREENWAY

Your Telephone Manager

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY GROWS WHAT IS PROBABLY THE WORLD'S MOST UNUSUAL GARDEN! Some of the material and equipment used to bring us our telephone service has to go underground... things like cable and other transmission apparatus. To make sure it can take the special conditions of life underground, samples are buried for various periods of time and then dug up to see how they're doing! Specimens of various kinds of rubber, plastic, adhesives, etc. are buried in anywhere from 1 to 32 years. The condition they're in when they're dug up helps scientists at Bell Telephone Laboratories to develop materials that give long-lasting, trouble-free telephone service. Guess you never thought the phone company went in for "gardening."

$4,441,689 -- QUITE A LOT OF MONEY AT FIRST GLANCE, ISN'T IT? That figure represents the goal to be reached by noon, November 2 in the 1964 United Appeal drive. And when you think of the many people benefited by the health, welfare, and character building services aided by your gift, $4,441,689 doesn't really look so large, does it? This is your community and I'm sure we all want it to be the best. And certainly we want to do our part to help make it the best. Many of our neighbors are volunteer workers in this worthwhile project and they need our contribution, large or small, to reach the top. Support DeKalb County and its high aims by giving our fair share.

IF YOUR PHONE COULD TALK, it would probably have a Southern accent! That's because an important part of most phones today is a small fluffy ball of cotton. The cotton (1/100 of an ounce!) is tucked into the hollow part of the handset to prevent vibrations and echoes from the mouthpiece reaching the earpiece. This tiny addition is just one of the reasons for the amazing clarity of voices over the telephone, whether they're coming from across the street, or across the world!

Mothers Are Needed

A LETTER came in last week's mail from a Camp Fire mother, Mrs. J. C. Fitzpatrick, Jr., asking if I won't make an appeal for mothers to take an active part as leaders in youth work. And I'd be glad to do just that if it weren't for the fact that Mrs. Fitzpatrick's letter makes a much better appeal than anything I've read in a long time. Obviously, she is the kind of mother youth organizations pray for—warm, enthusiastic and dedicated to bending the twig in her care toward the sunlight.

"SO OFTEN," Mrs. Fitzpatrick begins, "the mothers who are leaders already are busy women but find time for this wonderful service. The ones who protest that they work, have small children or have no talents along those lines should realize that they too should take a fair turn and offer the children what abilities they do possess."

"OF LEADERS who begin with fears and reluctance," she goes on, "many soon find their interest growing and the enthusiasm is contagious. We gain new fellowship with other leaders and make new friends. We gain new knowledge and skills in all sorts of areas. True, church work is important and mothers need an outside activity or interest of their own; but why not postpone some of the golf, bridge, bowling, garden clubbing, etc., until the few short years are over when children need our supervision and help."

"THERE are disadvantages — it isn't an easy job. There are many frustrations, but there are far more rewards — a satisfaction of giving the children happy memories, aims and goals to live by, talents learned, problems solved, and most of all, helping these children mature into the fine young people we want them to be."

I COULDN'T agree more. Working with children and young people isn't an easy job. I remember one year when I assisted with our eldest's Girl Scout Troop, our son's Cub Scout Pack, and the youngest's Brownie group. And many times, rushed beyond endurance, I thought I should have my head examined for getting myself so involved. But looking back from the vantage point of today I know, just as Mrs. Fitzpatrick says, that the rewards far outweigh any of the temporary frustrations. Because working with and being involved in my children's interests built up a closeness between us that will last as long as we live, a closeness we might not have found any other way. And in the doing, I learned a lot more than probably I gave.

ACTUALLY, as this letter points out, children don't care nearly as much about the youth group leader being an expert as about the fact that she wants to give time to be with them. They don't care if you have to learn together — sometimes they are happier that way, because learning anything together builds camaraderie. The main thing that matters to children is that a grown-up is taking time to be friends with them.

MRS. FITZPATRICK has written an eloquent plea for mothers to "help guide children through formative years, bridging a gap between childhood and dating years," and she wonders "what can be done to bring out the potential leadership so vitally needed, how the fire can be kindled in those mothers who protest they have no talents."

WELL, I wish I knew the answer. I do know that if mothers could realize how very fleeting the years are, "those few short years when children need our supervision and help," as Mrs. Fitzpatrick puts it, they'd make haste to put every minute of it to use. And after it was over and there was all the time in the world for "golf, bridge and bowling," they'd realize that the best years, the very best years of all, were the years they were bending over leatherwork with some aspiring and perspiring little Blue Bird or Brownie or Cub Scout.

Secretary Of State Rusk Visits With Decatur Relatives

BY LAURA RIMER

An air of excitement pervaded the Pinecrest Avenue home of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Lanford last Wednesday night as Secret Service men stood about on the patio and photographers flashed bulbs in the living room.

The occasion was a family dinner party honoring Mrs. Lanford's first cousin, Secretary of State Dean Rusk, who was visiting here for the purpose of addressing the American Bar Association and kept a special evening aside to spend with his family.

This was the first real family reunion for those present since a meeting in Knoxville two years ago, and is often the case with important people, there was an unavoidable delay at the last minute. When everyone had arrived except the honor guest and Mrs. Lanford was just about to light the candles, the phone rang. It was the Secretary of State. "Doris," he said, "I'm so disappointed, but it looks as if I'll be delayed about an hour and a half with long distance calls from Washington. But don't worry - I'll be there." Mrs. Lanford laughs that the first thing she thought of was her soufflé nicely browning in the oven, and having a sense of humor, she began to chuckle over the probable number of soufflés that have fallen waiting for the busy statesman to settle some pressing world problems.

Mrs. Lanford had only two days' notice that the Secretary's schedule would make the dinner party possible, and she says she could not have made all the preparations without the wonderful help of friends and neighbors. A real treat for the guests were homemade after-dinner mints brought by a friend who deeply admires the Secretary and wanted to have some small part in making the evening memorable for him. Others hearing of his visit, brought flowers and treasured pieces of silver to grace the table, and the Lanford home was lovely for the party with floral decorations in autumn colors and arrangements of fruit and burning tapers in matching shades.

Not many people remember that Secretary Rusk grew up in Atlanta, but it was this background that inspired the dinner menu. Mrs. Lanford's first plans for the festive evening, she says, were "a turkey dinner with all the trimmings," but after thinking the matter over, she decided her cousin would enjoy more than anything a real, old-fashioned Southern dinner, and that was what was featured - Southern favorites like fried chicken, candied yams, deep dish apple pie and pound cake.

Top security measures were thrown around the Secretary immediately after his arrival in Atlanta, and a number of Secret Service men accompanied him wherever he went. But, as Mrs. Lanford explains it, the Secret Service is trained to be unobtrusive and the family hardly knew they were around. The only real interruption was the sudden arrival of photographers who came to make pictures, and they added a gala note of excitement.

Those who were present for the party included Secretary of State and Mrs. Rusk, Miss Margaret Rusk of Atlanta, sister of the Secretary, Mrs. J. L. Perkins of Nashville, Tennessee, another sister, Mr. and Mrs. Parks Rusk of Miami, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Rusk of Knoxville, Mrs. Jud Lanford of Decatur, and the hosts' sixteen year old son, Larry.

Following dinner, the family group went to Miss Margaret Rusk's home on North Morning-side Drive for a small reception assembling members of Miss Rusk's church Circle at Morning-side Presbyterian Church.

DeKalb Medical Auxiliary Has Program On Retardation

The proposed Georgia Mental Retardation Institute to be located in DeKalb County was the main topic discussed at the October 19 meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary to the DeKalb County Medical Society at Davis Brothers Cafeteria at Toco Hills.

Dr. James D. Clements, Director of the Mental Retardation Planning Project for the State Department of Public Health explained the formation of the institute.

Dr. Clements stated that those involved in state retardation planning are state agencies, private citizens and schools interested in mental retardation. He explained that seven vital committees from these sources have been formed who have primary responsibility for the planning project.

He informed the Auxiliary that the mental retardation center will include facilities for evaluation clinics, a laboratory, therapy center, library, chapel, an administration building and auditorium—a complex of 27 separate buildings. Critical needs of the new institute include money and staffing.

Mrs. John Schreeder, president of the DeKalb Medical Auxiliary, expressed the sympathy of the group on the passing of one of its members, Mrs. John E. Taylor, Jr., and of a past Auxiliary member, Mrs. C. E. Battillo.

MRS. JACK FROST MURLIN

Holy Trinity Church Scene Of McWhorter-Murlin Rites

Miss Alma McWhorter, daughter of Mrs. Burnett P. McWhorter and the late Mr. McWhorter, became the bride of Jack Frost Murlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Elbert Murlin of Atlanta, in a beautiful ceremony solemnized on Saturday afternoon, October 17 in Holy Trinity Episcopal Church. Dr. William Littleton officiated.

Given in marriage by her brother, Burnett McWhorter, the bride was radiantly lovely in her gown of white peau de sole featuring a bodice of Alencon lace. The voluminous skirt fell in folds to a cathedral train accented with matching lace appliques. Her veil of silk illusion was caught to a Juliet cap of rosepoint lace which the bride's late father had brought from France some years ago. She carried a white satin covered Bible holding a white orchid and sprays of stephanotis. Her only ornament was a diamond brooch worn on a gold chain, which was a gift to her grandmother on her wedding day.

Mrs. Burnett McWhorter, Jr., was the matron of honor and only attendant. She wore a floor length dress of sapphire blue velvet featuring a yoke and elbow length sleeves, and carried a spray of white Fuji mums.

E. Banks Pendleton, brother-in-law of the groom, served as best man. Ushers were Hugh F. Stone, Jr. of Fernandina Beach, Fla. and E. E. Strickland.

Mrs. McWhorter selected for her daughter's wedding a becoming blue lace dress complemented with a sequin hat in shades of blue and lavender and an orchid corsage. Mrs. Murlin was lovely in a turquoise matisse dress, which she wore with a turquoise satin petal hat finished with a veil. She wore a purple orchid.

Following the ceremony Mrs. McWhorter was hostess at a reception at her home on Glenn Circle. Miss Mary Martha Daniel cut the cake. Serving punch were Miss Rosalind Todd of Greenville, S.C.; Miss Lura Register of Savannah and Mrs. Turner Ball. Others assisting in serving were Misses Barbara and Robin Pendleton, nieces of the groom.

For traveling, the bride wore an aqua and olive knit suit with an aqua blouse and accessories of olive with the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

LaVista Jr. Woman's Club Takes Pumpkins To Tallulah

One of the highlights of the year for members of the LaVista Junior Woman's Club, as it is for all members of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs, is the annual trip to Tallulah Falls School, which was organized fifty-five years ago by the Federation and is still owned and operated by them.

Each year members of the LaVista club motor to the school for a day-long tour of the facilities, and each year the group takes a gift to the school to express its interest in the institution's well-being.

This year, when the question of what gift to take arose, the club had an inspiration: what could be more typical of the season and yet more practical than pumpkins! Pumpkins it was, and never a group to do things by halves, the Juniors gathered together over one hundred and seventy pounds of pumpkins of all sizes - pumpkins destined to appear on the school's tables as delectable pies and in the school's windows as grinning Jack-O-Lanterns, both dear to child-like hearts on Halloween.

Luncheon at the school, after the pumpkins had been presented and admired, was followed by a tour of the buildings and grounds, and the LaVista Juniors were particularly fortunate in having along one of their own members, Mrs. Dean Gaines, who is well-qualified to answer questions and trace the history and growth of the school, since she serves as the Tallulah Falls 5th District Chairman.

Q: What is an indirect finesse?

A: You can't afford to lead an honor for a finesse unless one of your two hands contain the subsequent honor. If you do, these finessses are called a Chinese finesse because you don't have a Chinaman's chance to win. There is a more inelegant term for this play; it is called a "sucker's finesse."

As an example, if you hold the Axx in one hand and the Qxx in the opposite hand. A small card is placed toward the ace and a small card back toward the queen. The play is based on the hope that the king lies in the hand that plays before the queen.

If you led the queen and it had been covered by the king in second position or captured by the king in the fourth position, you have assisted in promoting his jack.

You could have afforded the luxury of leading an honor for the direct finesse if you had held QJ 10 opposite the Axx.

Q: What is the meaning of a jump from two to four to a strong two demand?

A: This is a bid that describes the responder's hand in a minute detail all in one bid. It says: "Partner, you will find that I have excellent trump support; either xxxxx or Qxxx. I have no ace, no king, no singleton and no void."

This eliminates the use of a Blackwood and leaves partner free either to stop at game or go on to slam on his own hand.
